OUR THANKS

The staff wishes to extend its sincere thanks to Mr. David G. Nuzum in appreciation for his time, effort, and guidance spent in producing this fourth volume of THE CATAMOUNT. We are also indebted to Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater for her assistance in arranging group pictures and for the use of the Pasquino Staff room by our photographer and to Mr. W. D. Anthony for printing privileges. The Staff appreciates the encouragement given by Dr. Church, Dean McKee, and the faculty.

We acknowledge with appreciation: the service and guidance rendered by Mr. R. A. Haddock of Jahn and Ollier Engraving Company; the frequent trips and consultation given by Mr. John F. Rose of the Herald Printing House; and the excellent quality of photographs and friendly cooperation offered by Mr. George Ruhl.

To all of our advertisers and boosters we extend our unreserved appreciation.

We ask pardon for any omissions and errors.

The Directors wish to express their thanks to all those students who have helped in producing this yearbook: William Long, William Rogers, Richard House, Lucille Davis, Meta Boyd, Louise Dayton, Helen Hess, James Preaskorn, Patrick Loney, Betty Glover, Walter Dinteman, Jane Homan, Polly Wertz, Joan Rowe, Marie Collins, John Minnich, Walter Frederick, Berdell Bishoff, and all contributors of snapshots.

Dr. E. E. Church, President

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

THE CATAMOUNT is a mirror that will reflect, through the coming years, the activities of a busy college year. It has been an unusual year, one without precedent in the lifetime of students on the campus. It has been an historic year, whose real significance may not quickly be appreciated.

We are grateful to the Staff and the Advisor of THE CATAMOUNT for a good job faithfully done. We will remember you as you help us to remember the Potomac State of 1941-42.

E. E. CHURCH

DEAN'S MESSAGE

The 1942 CATAMOUNT is a lasting and treasured record of campus personalities and their activities at Potomac State School during the first year of the present National Emergency.

It calls to the attention of both faculty and students not only the things we strive to live for, but more important, the things we are willing to sacrifice, yes, even to give our very lives to preserve.

The efficient staff and able sponsor are to be commended for their untiring efforts in making this an outstanding and worthwhile yearbook.

President Church Makes a Purchase of Defense Stamps

On January 20, 1942, Sigma Phi Omega began the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps to the student body. Under the leadership of Marshall Carrier, Jr., a booth was placed in the hall of the Administration Building, and members of the Honor Society volunteered their services as salesmen two mornings each week. Stamps were secured at the post office, and arrangements were made to fill orders for bonds. Sales for January were $64.25; for February, $225.45; and for March, $115.25. A goal of $700 for the semester is expected to be exceeded. Sigma Phi Omega will continue the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps next year.

HARVEST SWING

The second semi-formal dance of the year was held November 15 by the Eta Upsilon Gamma Sorority and the Theta Sigma Chi Fraternity in honor of Miss Helen Campbell. Helen was honored because of her outstanding scholastic achievement and her loyalty to her sorority in all undertakings. To the music of Reed Raines, sixty couples danced in a colorful setting of orange and black, with cornstalks and pumpkins adding a note of gaiety.

HOMECOMING BALL

At the eighth annual Homecoming Ball, October 11, Ethna Snider, sophomore from Clarksburg, was honored as Miss Catamount III. Ethna is president of the Eta Upsilon Gamma Sorority, and a member of the Players Club, Folio Book Club, Singers, and the Pasquino Staff. She is well liked on the campus and was given this honor by popular vote of the students. Delmar Burns, alumnus member of Theta Sigma Chi, presented her with a bouquet of red roses, after which she led the grand march, a feature of the dance. Approximately two hundred couples, including many alumni, danced under a ceiling of autumn leaves to the music of the Diplomats of Martinsburg.

AMERI-CAN CAN

Because of the shortening of the school term, the two annual spring fraternity dances were molded into one, sponsored by Pan-Hellenic, March 27. Red, white, and blue decorations emphasized the Pan-American theme. Corsages were banned from the dance with the exception of those sold by Pan-Hellenic, which donated the proceeds to the Red Cross. The dance was high-lighted by the presentation of the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. Miss Mary Alyce Harman was chosen by a campus-wide election for this honor. A representative of Pan-Hellenic presented Miss Harman with a bouquet, after which she led the grand march.

JINGLE BELL HOP

December 13 found the students of Potomac State in a holiday mood at the Jingle Bell Hop sponsored by Phi Sigma Nu and Sigma Epsilon Chi. Amid a bower of pine trees and jingling bells, Helen Wheeler and Charles Garrett were proclaimed Queen and King of Winter. Miss Wheeler was chosen by her sorority because of her beauty, personality, and leadership. Each couple was met at the door by Santa Claus, who presented each girl with a jingle bell bracelet. Music was furnished by Jimmy Andrews and his orchestra.

THE QUEEN'S BALL

The crowning of Miss Lois Byer as Queen of May was followed by the Queen's Ball. A record crowd attended to pay homage to Her Majesty and Court. Miss Byer was chosen for her personality, charm, and leadership on the campus. She is a member of Eta Upsilon Gamma Sorority, Country Life Club, W. A. A., The Pasquino Staff, and Sigma Phi Omega The gymnasium was beautifully decorated with flags of South American countries.

MAY COURT

A tradition on the campus of Potomac State is the selection and honoring of the Queen of May. On Saturday, May 2, Miss Lois Byer was crowned by President E. E. Church. In her attendance were Prince Dave Hardman and twelve princesses with their respective escorts, all chosen by vote of the students. The program, under the supervision of Dr. Atwater and Mrs. Drake, followed a South American trend, with accompanying music directed by Mr. Withers.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

A formal dinner party was held, December 18, in the beautifully decorated, candlelit dining room of Davis Hall for the students and faculty. After the turkey dinner was served, a short program featured talks by President Church, Dean McKee, and a reading by Mary Kathleen Allman. While the merry-makers waited for Santa Claus to arrive, Mr. Withers, accompanied by Mrs. Church, directed carol singing. With the arrival of St. Nick, presents were distributed to both students and faculty. The party then proceeded to the gymnasium, where several selections were sung by William Loy. The evening was concluded by more carols and dancing.

Eta Upsilon Gamma, the only national junior college sorority on the campus, was established by six girls at Christian College, Columbia, Missouri. The sorority's aims are to promote scholarship, to stimulate school spirit, and to enrich and broaden friendship.

The "Rush" party, held October 16, was a Gammaret. Thirty girls became pledges. Mrs. Kay Crawford, Gamma's national treasurer, was a guest of the sorority and initiated the girls as pledges.

Lucile Anthony was awarded the Gamma Scholarship Pin with an average of 2.643.

Miss Frances Ciark accepted the co-sponsorship of the sorority to assist Miss Verna Riley, sponsor.

March 17 was the beginning of "Hell Week" which was climaxed with the formal banquet and initiation at the Corwin Hotel in Keyser.

Certain honors have been bestowed upon several Gamma members. Ethna Snider was honored as Miss Catamount at the Homecoming Ball. Helen Campbell was the Harvest Queen, being honored at the Harvest Ball.

Originated on October 10, 1923, Sigma Epsilon Chi, Potomac State's oldest sorority, is a local organization, though at one time it was affiliated with national junior college sorority, Sigma Iota Chi.

Aided by Phi Sigma Nu, Sigma Epsilon Chi sponsored the "Jingle Bell Hop." Miss Helen Wheeler was honored by being crowned "Queen of Winter" at the "Jingle Bell Hop" and Miss Mary Alice Harman was honored at the "Ameri-Can Can" as the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

On February 14, a tea was given at the clubhouse by the sponsors. The sorority provided entertainment for the graduating members at the end of the school term.

Miss Christine Shockey and Miss Agnes Minear earned three-point averages for the first semester, to lead the sorority in scholastic average.

The organization holds as its ideal the promotion of congeniality, sisterly devotion and loyalty, responsibility, and consideration for others. It seeks to engender high standards of morality and scholastic attainment and to develop true womanhood.

The Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity was originally a national junior college organization which was later disbanded. Phi Sigma Nu is now known on the campus as a local social fraternity.

This year Phi Sigma Nu, with Sigma Epsilon Chi, sponsored the third annual "Jingle Bell Hop." Various picnics, parties, and hikes were held during the year.

The fraternity holds and demands certain requirements, such as scholastic achievement, high moral standards, a better college spirit, and a greater interest in all school activities. It also strives to promote better relations between college students as a whole, and to establish a life-long bond of friendship between the members.

Theta Sigma Chi has long been known as the producer of leaders on the Potomac State campus as well as the future leaders of the world. Scholastically, the fraternity has won three of the Dean's Scholarship Cups.

The fraternity began its social season by sponsoring the election of Miss Catamount III for the Homecoming Dance. Miss Ethna Snider, who won the honor, was presented a beautiful bouquet of red roses shortly before intermission by Theta Alumnus, Delmar Burns. In November, Theta Sigma Chi, in collaboration with Eta Upsilon Gamma, held a "Harvest Swing." Miss Helen Campbell was honored at this dance for her scholastic and social attainments during her two years on the campus. In March, the fraternity, in conjunction with the other Greek groups on the Hill, sponsored the Ameri-Can Can. Several informal parties were also held during the year.

Adding to the beauty of the campus is a flag pole, erected by the group last spring, which stands before Davis Hall. The fraternity in undertaking this project desired to contribute something toward the beautification of the campus and at the same time to construct a monument to Thetas. This flag pole will be a constant reminder of the patriotic and zealous spirit of Theta Sigma Chi. All of the material and work which went into the completed project was the result of Theta perseverance.

HOME ECON

Membership in the Home Economics Club is based purely on interests and consists of those students participating in the courses in food, clothing, and interior decorating. The activities of both the department and the club have grown greatly in the past five years, increasing the membership from one major to the present enrollment of thirty-one.

The class in interior decorating was actively engaged at the beginning of the year in the redecoration of the reception room in Reynolds Hall. Their contribution to defense work consisted of cutting out and making twenty-eight wool dresses for the American Red Cross.

The foods class, consisting of three units, sponsored several bake sales in order to make money for the club. As another project each unit served a breakfast, lunch, and dinner to members of the faculty. The budget for these menus is limited and gives excellent planning experience.

A Christmas dinner was served by the foods class to the entire faculty. The decorations were under the supervision of the art class.

POTOMAC SINGERS

Another successful year of work has been completed by the Potomac State Singers under the direction of Leonard G. Withers. The group presented a Christmas cantata, "The Adoration," with Agnes Parrish, Delbert Bobo, Carl Horner, and William Loy as soloists. During the year they have sung in many of the Keyser churches. Their program consisted of both sacred and secular music.

Last year the Potomac Singers made a tour of twenty-one high schools in the state, going west as far as Parkersburg and as far east as Martinsburg. This past year they followed a similar schedule.

The Singers held their first annual dance April 10, in the school gymnasium. It proved to be a huge success. Music was furnished by the Potomac State Collegiates.

The final appearance of the Potomac Singers was at the graduation and baccalaureate services for the graduates of Potomac State School.

POTOMAC PLAYERS

The oldest cultural organization on the campus, the Potomac State Players was organized in 1919.

"Thanks Awfully," a comedy in one act, was the first offering of the year, and was presented before one of the regular assemblies just before the Thanksgiving holidays.

For their second presentation, the club did a three-act drama entitled "Kind Lady," by Edward Chodorov. This play was presented first on the evening of December 16, and was repeated January 20.

The Players gave a series of one-act plays during commencement week.

The Medical Club of Potomac State School was formed in 1933. In 1941, however, it was reorganized with the revision of the constitution and by-laws. The purpose of the club is to give the students who are interested in the various medical fields contact with people who are engaged in the practice of medicine and to help them decide what branch of the profession they wish to enter. Under the direction of Mr. Martin, the sponsor, the club has made rapid progress during the last year.

The Student Council, under the supervision of the faculty, is the official governing organization of the Student Body. The Council directs student activities, promotes school spirit, and strives for a better understanding between pupil and instructor.

During Freshman Week the Council serves as guides and aides in the general activities to acquaint the new students with the campus. Identification badges were provided for all first year students. Other projects included purchase of megaphones for cheerleaders, publication of football programs for the Concord, Glenville, and West Virginia School of Technology home games, and sponsorship of the colorful Homecoming Ball. Six card tables were bought by the council and placed in Davis and Reynolds Halls.

Selection and enforcement of Freshman Rules were delegated to the Council. A Freshman Court, known as "Kangaroo Court," was established to mete out punishment to freshmen for failing to wear "Dinks" and for infraction of other rules. This year the council presented thirty Certificates of Athletic Award, eighteen letters and ten sweaters to athletes who represented Potomac State on the gridiron and the basketball court.

The council supervised the May Queen election, extended invitations to high schools to participate in the May Fete, and gave the May Day Ball. To conclude its activities of the year the council held an election for President of the Student Body and Sophomore Class officers.

FOLIO BOOK CLUB

The Folio Book Club was organized in 1939 under the direction of Miss Mary Shipper, librarian. The aims of the club are to stimulate an interest in popular books and to entertain literary-minded students.

Since the club's organization, it has enjoyed many worthwhile activities. Among these have been hearing authors review their books, attending screen versions of books, and at each meeting having some interesting speaker review a recent book. This year the club was privileged to hear Anna Norman Oates, West Virginia poet, read some of her poems.

Social activities included an outdoor picnic in honor of the new members and a dinner at the close of the year.

The Potomac State Debate Club received invitations to attend the Annual Tournaments held at Shepherdstown State Teachers College, Shepherdstown, West Virginia; and Shippensburg State Teachers College, Shippensburg, Pennsylvania. The subject was: The Federal Government Should Control By Law All Labor Unions in the United States. The contests were given additional emphasis by the pressing need of National Defense.

The debaters were: Barbara Paarlberg, Mary Calamine, Jean Bowers, affirmative team; Robert McCartney, Denzil Prather, negative team. Much of the success of the team was due to the help and encouragement of its coaches and sponsors: Mr. Dayton, Mr. Anthony, Dean McKee, and Dr. Bolen.

The Women's Athletic Association has been organized to popularize women's sports, to promote health, and to encourage leadership as well as participation. This group is sponsored by Mrs. Drake, director of girls' physical education. The club devotes its activities to basketball, volleyball, badminton, archery, tennis, bicycling, hiking, swimming, and pingpong.

The club's motto is "A sport for every girl and a girl for every sport." When a specified number of points has been earned, the member receives a recognition pin.

Activities of the year include: Inviting representatives from twenty-five schools for the annual play day, providing entertainment for the May Court, arrangement of intramural contests in sports, and a trip to Morgantown, W. Va., for the University Play Day.

COUNTRY LIFE CLUB

On May 26, 1925, the Country Life Club at Potomac State was organized in connection with the Physical Education Department. It is a branch of the Youth Section of the American Country Life Association with similar clubs in many colleges throughout the United States.

The objectives of the club are to provide organized activities for students in order to inspire them to serve their school and community to better advantage, to promote sociability among its members, and to study the position of youth in the present world crisis. Monthly meetings consist of student programs, addresses, and discussions on vital problems. Membership in the club is open to any student who is interested in furthering these aims.

Among the social activities of the club during the year were a party in the fall for the new members, an informal dance in the winter, and an annual picnic at the close of school. Meetings are held during the noon hour and luncheons are served by student committees.

One of the highest honors to be attained on the Potomac State campus is election to Sigma Phi Omega, the honor society established in 1923 for the purpose of recognizing scholarship and outstanding campus ability. In May, 1941, upon recommendation of the faculty, the society formally initiated the following members:

Mildred Adamson	Robert Doak	Jane Homan	David Robinson
Mary K. Allman	Donald Elrick	Victor Kalbaugh	Joan Rowe
Lucile Anthony	Hubert Gainer	Robert Kight	Christine Shockey
Dorothy Ayers	James Getty	William Long	Carrie Sinsel

Lois Byer	Helen Hess	Kenneth Peters	Joseph White
Marshall Carrier	Conrad Hohing	Agnes Richmond	Margaret Wolford

In November, Helen Campbell and Dorotha Kile were added to the list of members.

This year Sigma Phi Omega began its work by presenting in assembly the annual KNOW YOUR ORGANIZATIONS program, whereby all campus clubs and societies are introduced to the new students. The companion program giving recognition to campus leaders was presented shortly before the close of the current term.

In January, a new project was added to Sigma Phi Omega's busy program, the sale of United States Defense Stamps and Bonds.

As a climax to the year's activities, the student members join with the faculty associates in honoring their new members at a formal banquet, at which they have the privilege of hearing some prominent personality in the cultural field.

With the outstanding success of last year's annual before them, this year's Catamount Staff met early in October under the direction of Mr. David G. Nuzum. An election was held, positions were assigned, and a subscription campaign was launched.

Because the faculty and student body were so liberal in their support, THE CATAMOUNT was able to go to press early in April.

The present staff feels that it has made a worth-while contribution to the social life of the school, and unreservedly recommends that the publication of a yearbook be continued next year.

This seven-column newspaper appears on the campus every other Wednesday and endeavors to carry a complete assortment of news and views. The staff consists of all members of the department of journalism, and several additional students outside this class.

At the annual West Virginia Intercollegiate Press Conference held in December at Salem College THE PASQUINO was represented by John Byrd, Jean Eye, Rebecca Mauzy and Dr. Atwater. Rebecca Mauzy was honored by being elected to the vice-presidency of this State organization.

The annual staff banquet was held this spring, and awards were presented to graduating staff members.

POTOMAC STATE COLLEGIATES

This year Potomac State boasts a nine-piece dance orchestra known as the Potomac State Collegiates. Organized midway through the first semester, the group had a successful season playing for various school and public dances.

LeMoyne Blake, freshman from Moundsville, W. Va., conceived the idea of a band after having seen the talent that was enrolled in the school. Most of the members of the organization had had previous experience, and the job of getting a presentable band together for the dancing public was not a difficult task. The Collegiates may be strictly termed a "swing band." Featuring Frank Yeakle on the drums, the group has met with enthusiastic approval.

Miss Agnes Parrish was added to the personnel in January and appeared with them throughout the remainder of the year. Members of the Collegiates are: "Stew" Pinnell, "Saxy" Clink, and Donald Flick, saxophones; LeMoyne Blake and John Byrd, trumpets; Bob Hicks, trombone; Frank Yeakle, drums; Agnes Richmond, piano; Andrew Shuler, bass; and Agnes Parrish, vocalist.

FOOTBALL

After losing their first two contests by touchdown margins to Mount Saint Mary's and Glenville, Coach Dana G. Lough's Catamounts traveled to Waynesburg where they submitted to the powerful Yellow Jackets 25-0. Scoring on a last minute pass, Concord State triumphed over the Cats in the annual Homecoming tussle, 13-6. At California, Pa., on a muddy field, Coach Lough's boys had a red-letter day and romped over the California Teachers 27-0. On the road for the second straight week, Potomac State tallied two touchdowns in the final stanza for a 13-0 decision over Shepherd College. Playing on the home field, the steadily-improving State eleven met and defeated a strong W. Va. Tech team 6-0, for their third straight win. The game at Ithaca, N. Y., proved a heartbreaker as the Ithacan Bombers stopped a Potomac drive on their eight-yard line and went on to score the only touchdown of the game. Ending the season, the Loughmen went down by a touch-down margin, for the fifth time in their six defeats of a nine-game schedule to West Liberty. The victory enabled the West Liberty Hilltoppers to capture their third straight W. Va. Conference title.

Consistently outstanding during the season were Captain Gene Wherley, Mike Yewcic, and Stanley Szafron. Captain Wherley received an end berth on the first All-State Team.

BASKETBALL

Shortly after the close of the football season a call was issued for candidates for the basketball team. Seven sophomores and twelve freshmen responded.

Seemingly bound by inability to "hit the right combination," Coach Lough's Catamounts managed to salvage double bills from Shenandoah and the Petersburg Collegians from an otherwise average season. Another high point was the return engagement here with the Columbus University team, the Cats gaining sweet revenge for a licking taken at Washington, D. C.

Closing the home season with a smart 60-48 win over a hard-fighting Westinghouse team, the State five compiled a total of eight games won and thirteen lost.

Lettermen to be lost by graduation include: Pat Crogan, Bill Howard, Dave Hardman, George Mullett, Jack O'Neil, Frank Yeakle, and Mike Yewcic.

In connection with the national youth training program, every student attending Potomac State School took part in a vigorous physical education course under the capable direction of Mrs. Drake and Coach Lough. In addition, a four-week intra-mural basketball tournament for men was staged.

SPORTS CLUB

The Sports Club met first soon after school had begun and elected Carroll Rowe president and representative to the Student Council. Membership in this club is open to all men interested in sports, particularly those who participate in football and basketball. The purpose of the club is to promote all types of amateur athletics among the students during the school year.

Act V

Features

Presentation of a Service Flag

America is at war. While we sit at home, attend school, or pursue some occupation, our boys have been inducted into the country's armed forces. Some are already seeing active service.

At the suggestion of Charles Dayton, the CATAMOUNT Staff undertook the task of raising money with which to purchase a Service Flag and an American Flag. A blue star will be placed on a field of white for each boy who has gone from our school; the field, in turn, is bordered with red.

At the Recognition Program sponsored by Sigma Phi Omega, Charles Dayton presented the two flags in the name of the CATAMOUNT Staff to the college.

ROLL OF HONOR

Many Potomac State students have accepted their country's call and are now serving on land, on the sea, and in the air. Some have not completed their training while others are now on active duty patrolling our shores and protecting our possessions. THE CATAMOUNT STAFF presents this ROLL OF HONOR as a tribute to Potomac State's sons in uniform.
